Sec. 49 Title VI of the RCC provides that at each regular meeting of stockholders, the board of directors shall endeavor to present to stockholders the minutes of the most recent regular meeting.

Consistent therewith, the Minutes of the 2025 ASM will be presented to the stockholders for their consideration and approval during the 2026 ASM. Each resolution contained in the Minutes was approved by more than the required majority of the shares present at the meeting which was 948,782,305 or 94.88% of the 1,000,000,000 total issued and outstanding shares. One (1) share is equal to one (1) vote and a stockholder's vote is considered a vote for all the shares held by him, except in the election of directors where cumulative voting is allowed. No questions were raised by the stockholders in any of the Agenda items that were presented to them.

The stockholders were given the opportunity to ask questions on each Agenda item presented for their consideration so that the same could properly be addressed and clarified before the votes were taken.

The matters discussed, the tally of votes and the resolutions approved and adopted during the 2025 ASM are presented below:

| Discussion/Resolution | Votes Received | | |

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Stockholders and the Board of Directors
Philippine Trust Company (PHILTRUST BANK)
Philtrust Bank Building, 1000 United Nations Avenue
corner San Marcelino Street, Manila

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Philippine Trust Company (PHILTRUST BANK) (the Bank), which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the statements of income, statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and statements of cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, and notes to financial statements, including summary of material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Bank as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023 in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS) Accounting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSA). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Bank in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to the audit of the financial statements of public interest entities in the Philippines. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements as at and for the year ended December 31, 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements taken as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Accounting for and Valuation of Investment Securities

The Bank's investment securities consist of financial assets at amortized cost and financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, amounting to ₱83,950.2 million and ₱18,600.8 million, respectively, as at December 31, 2025. These represent 59.85% of the Bank's total assets.

We identified this as a key audit matter due to the significance of these balances to the financial statements and the judgment involved in recognition, classification, measurement and impairment assessment of these financial assets.

Our audit procedures, included, among others, (a) obtaining an understanding of the financial asset management and recording process; (b) verifying the existence of these investment securities through confirmations from custodians and inspection of supporting documents; (c) assessing the appropriateness of the classification of investment securities based on contractual cash flow characteristics and the Bank's duly approved business model; (d) testing the recognition and measurement of investment securities, including interest income, realized gains and losses and changes in fair values; and (e) evaluating management's assessment of impairment based on expected credit losses.

We also reviewed the adequacy of disclosures in Notes 3 and 8 to the financial statements.

Completeness and Accuracy of Loans and Receivables and Recognition of Interest Income, Including Transition to Loans Management System

In 2025, the Bank transitioned from traditional loan monitoring process to an automated loans management system (LMS). While the LMS is operational, certain activities, including the recognition of accrued interest and amortization of discounts, continue to be performed outside the system. As a result, loan processing and monitoring are carried out in a hybrid environment involving both system-generated and non-automated information.

Loans and receivables amounting to ₱34,468.4 million, represent 20.12% of the Bank's total assets as at December 31, 2025, while related interest income of ₱2,330.1 million represents 27.28% of the total interest income for the year.

We identified this as a key audit matter due to the significance of these balances, the volume and complexity of loan transactions, and the risks arising from the LMS implementation, including system configuration, and the operation of parallel processes alongside the LMS. These factors require careful consideration in ensuring the completeness and accuracy of loan data, the consistent application of loan terms, and appropriate recognition of interest income.

Our procedures included, among others, (a) obtaining an understanding of loan administration processes, including system changes introduced by LMS and the interaction between system-generated and parallel processes; (b) obtaining an understanding and evaluating the design of relevant controls over the LMS and key processes performed in parallel with the system, (c) testing the completeness and accuracy of loan records, including assessing the reliability of system-generated reports by tracing selected information to underlying loan documents on a sample basis; (d) recomputing interest income, accrued interest, and discount amortization for selected loan accounts based on contractual terms, and (e) verifying, on a sample basis, the classification and status of loan accounts.

The potential effects of the LMS transition on the allowance for credit and impairment losses are addressed in the related key audit matter, "Adequacy of Allowance for Credit and Impairment Losses on Loans and Receivables."

Relevant disclosures are included in Note 9 to the financial statements.

Adequacy of Allowance for Credit and Impairment Losses on Loans and Receivables

The Bank recognized allowance for credit and impairment losses on loans and receivables using the expected credit loss (ECL) model amounting to ₱3,129.8 million as at December 31, 2025.

The Bank's allowance for credit and impairment losses on loans and receivables is significant to our audit because it involves the exercise of significant management judgment, which include, among others, (a) determining the appropriate groupings of the Bank's credit risk exposures to establish the portfolio of counterparties with similar credit risk characteristics; (b) defining what constitutes a default; (c) determining the appropriate method to estimate the ECL; (d) identifying the exposures with significant increase in credit risk; (e) determining the relevant assumptions to be used in the ECL model; and (f) incorporating the appropriate forward-looking information in the ECL calculation.

Our audit procedures include understanding the methodologies and ECL model used by the Bank and assessing the compliance with the key requirements of PFRS 9, Financial Instruments. We have performed an independent assessment of the significant management judgment incorporated in and used in the preparation of the ECL model. We have also assessed the reliability of the data used in the ECL model through inspection of the source data.

We also checked the adequacy of disclosures made by the Bank in relation to the requirements of PFRS 9 and the discussion of the methodologies used and the related financial impact as disclosed in Notes 3, 4, 9 and 13 to the financial statements.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the SEC Form 20-IS (Definitive Information Statement) and SEC Form 17-A (Annual Report) for the year ended December 31, 2025, but does not include the financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. The SEC Form 20-IS (Definitive Information Statement) and SEC Form 17-A (Annual Report) for the year ended December 31, 2025, are expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditors' report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audits of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified in the foregoing when these become available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with PFRS Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Bank or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Bank's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSA will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, these could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSA, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bank's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Bank to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audits.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current year and are therefore considered key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report is Grace M. Albulian.

2. Summary of Material Accounting Policy Information

The material accounting principles adopted by the Bank were consistently applied with those in the previous years unless otherwise indicated.

Basis of Preparation and Statement of Compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in compliance with the Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS) Accounting Standards issued by the Philippine Financial and Sustainability Reporting Standards Council and adopted by the SEC.

This financial reporting framework includes PFRS, Philippine Accounting Standards (PAS), Philippine Interpretations from International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (IFRIC), and the SEC pronouncements.

Measurement Bases

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for:

- Investment securities measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI);
- Retirement liability that is carried at the present value of defined benefit obligation less fair value of plan asset; and
- Lease liabilities recognized at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the Bank's incremental borrowing rate.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for an asset and fair value of the consideration received in exchange for incurring a liability. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that these transactions take place either:

- in the principal market for the asset or liability; or
- in the absence of a principal market in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Bank. The Bank measures the fair value of an asset or liability using the assumption that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest. If an asset or liability measured at fair value has both bid and ask prices, the Bank uses the price within the bid-ask price spread, which is the most representative of fair value in the circumstances.

For nonfinancial assets, the Bank measures the fair value considering a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using an asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use it in its highest and best use.

The Bank uses observable market data as far as possible when measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability. Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

- Level 1 - quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active market for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 - valuation techniques for which the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable;
- Level 3 - valuation techniques for which the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability might be categorized in different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Bank recognizes transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting year during which the change has occurred.

Information about the assumptions made in measuring fair values is included in Note 3, Significant Judgments, Accounting Estimates and Assumptions, Note 4, Financial Risk Management and Note 11, Investment Properties.

Functional and Presentation Currency

The financial statements are presented in Philippine Peso. The financial statements of the Bank include the accounts maintained in the Regular Banking Unit (RBU) and Foreign Currency Deposit Unit (FCDU). Items in the financial statements of each banking unit are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the banking unit operates (the functional currency).

The functional currency of the RBU and FCDU is the Philippine Peso and United States Dollar (USD), respectively. For financial reporting purposes, the FCDU accounts are translated into their equivalent amounts in Philippine Peso. The financial statements of RBU and FCDU are combined after eliminating inter-unit accounts.

All values are rounded to the nearest thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

Presentation of Financial Statements

The Bank presents its statements of financial position broadly in the order of liquidity. An analysis of recoveries or settlements within 12 months after the reporting date (current) and more than 12 months after the reporting date (non-current) is presented in Note 17, Classification of Assets and Liabilities.

Adoption of Amendments to PFRS Accounting Standards

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year, except for the adoption of the Amendments to PAS 21, The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates - Lack of Exchangeability, January 1, 2025. The amendments clarify when a currency is considered exchangeable into another currency and how an entity determines the exchange rate for currencies that lack exchangeability.

The amendments also introduce new disclosure requirements to help users of financial statements assess the impact when a currency is not exchangeable. An entity does not apply the amendments retrospectively. Instead, an entity recognizes any effect of initially applying the amendments as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings when the entity reports foreign currency transactions. When an entity uses a presentation currency other than its functional currency, it recognizes the cumulative amount of translation differences in equity. Earlier application is permitted.

The adoption of the amendments to PFRS Accounting Standards did not materially affect the financial statements of the Bank. Additional disclosures were included in the financial statements, as applicable.

New and Amendments to PFRS Accounting Standards Issued but Not yet Effective

Relevant new and amendments to PFRS Accounting Standards, which are not yet effective as at December 31, 2025 and have not been applied in preparing the financial statements, are summarized below.

Effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026 -

- Amendments to PFRS 9, Financial Instruments, and PFRS 7 - Classification and Measurement of Financial Assets – The amendments clarify that a financial liability is derecognized when the related obligation is discharged, cancelled, expires or otherwise qualifies for derecognition (e.g. settlement date), and introduces a policy option to derecognize financial liabilities settled through an electronic payment system before settlement date if the required conditions are met. The amendments also clarify the assessment of contractual cash flow characteristics of financial assets, the treatment of non-recourse loans and contractually linked instruments, as well as require additional disclosure requirements for financial assets and liabilities with contingent features and equity instruments classified at FVOCI. Earlier application is permitted.

Annual Improvements to PFRS Accounting Standards Volume 11:

- Amendments to PFRS 7 – The amendments update and remove some obsolete references related to the gain or loss on derecognition on financial assets of an entity that has a continuing involvement and to the disclosure requirements on deferred differences between fair value and transaction price. The amendments also clarify that the illustrative guidance does not necessarily illustrate all the requirements for credit risk disclosure. Earlier application is permitted.
- Amendments to PFRS 9 - Transaction Price and Lessee Derecognition of Lease Liabilities – The amendments clarify that when a lessee has determined that a lease liability has been extinguished in accordance with PFRS 9, the lessee must apply the derecognition criteria for a financial liability which requires recognition of a gain or loss in profit or loss. The amendments also replace the reference to ‘transaction price as defined by PFRS 15’ to ‘the amount determined by applying PFRS 15’ to remove potential confusion. Earlier application is permitted.
- Amendments to PAS 7 - Cost Method – The amendments replace the term ‘cost method’ with ‘at cost’ following the deletion of the definition of ‘cost method’. Earlier application is permitted.

Effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027 -

- PFRS 18, Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements – This standard replaces PAS 1 and sets out the requirements for the presentation and disclosure of information to help ensure that the financial statements provide relevant information that faithfully represents the entity’s assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses. The standard introduces new categories and sub-totals in the statements of comprehensive income, disclosures on management-defined performance measures, and new principles for grouping of information, which the entity needs to apply retrospectively. Earlier application is permitted.

Under prevailing circumstances, the adoption of the foregoing new and amendments to PFRS Accounting Standards is not expected to have any material effect on the financial statements of the Bank. Additional disclosures will be included in the notes to financial statements, as applicable.

Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Date of Recognition. The Bank recognizes a financial asset or a liability in the statement of financial position when the Bank becomes a party to the contractual provisions of a financial instrument. In the case of a regular way purchase or sale of financial assets, recognition and derecognition, as applicable, is done using settlement date accounting.

Initial Recognition and Measurement. Financial instruments are recognized initially at fair value, which is the fair value of the consideration given (in case of an asset) or received (in case of a liability). The initial measurement of financial instruments, except for those designated at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL), includes transaction cost.

“Day 1” Difference. Where the transaction in a non-active market is different from the fair value of other observable current market transactions in the same instrument or based on a valuation technique whose variables include only data from observable market, the Bank recognizes the difference between the transaction price and fair value (a “Day 1” difference) in profit or loss. In cases where there is no observable data on inception, the Bank deems the transaction price as the best estimate of fair value and recognizes “Day 1” difference in profit or loss when the inputs become observable or when the instrument is derecognized. For each transaction, the Bank determines the appropriate method of recognizing the “Day 1” difference.

Financial Assets

Classification. The Bank classifies its financial assets at initial recognition under the following categories: (a) financial assets at FVPL, (b) financial assets at FVOCI and (c) financial assets at amortized cost.

The classification of a financial asset largely depends on its contractual cash flow characteristics and the Bank’s business model for managing them.

The Bank does not have financial assets at FVPL as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Financial Assets at FVOCI - Debt Securities. For debt securities that are not designated at FVPL under the fair value option, the financial assets are measured at FVOCI if both of the following conditions are met:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and sell the financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

These debt securities are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs. After initial recognition, interest income (calculated using the effective interest rate method), foreign currency gains or losses and impairment losses of debt securities measured at FVOCI are recognized directly in profit or loss. Fair value changes are recognized in other comprehensive income and presented in the equity section of the statement of financial position. When the financial asset is derecognized, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognized in other comprehensive income are reclassified from equity to profit or loss as a reclassification adjustment.

Certain investments in government securities are included in this category.

Financial Assets at FVOCI - Equity Instruments. On initial recognition, equity instruments that are not held for trading may be irrevocably designated as a financial asset measured at FVOCI.

Dividends from equity instruments held at FVOCI are recognized in profit or loss when the right to receive payment is established, unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Foreign currency gains or losses and unrealized gains or losses from equity instruments are recognized in other comprehensive income and presented in the equity section of the statement of financial position. These fair value changes are recognized in equity and are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent years. On disposal of these equity securities, any cumulative gains or losses will be reclassified to retained earnings.

Investments in quoted and unquoted equity securities are classified under this category.

Financial Assets at Amortized Cost. Financial assets should be measured at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- its contractual terms give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any allowance for credit and impairment losses. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate.

Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the financial assets are derecognized and through the amortization process.

Cash and other cash items, due from BSP and other banks, securities purchased under resale agreement, loans and receivables, certain investment in government securities (presented under "Investment securities" account), refundable deposits, other investments and returned checks and other cash items (RCOCI), included under "Others" in the "Other assets" account, are classified under this category.

Reclassification. The Bank reclassifies its financial assets when, and only when, the Bank changes its business model for managing those financial assets. The reclassification is applied prospectively from the first day of the first reporting year following the change in the business model (reclassification date).

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at amortized cost category to financial assets at FVOCI, any gain or loss arising from a difference between the previous amortized cost of the financial asset and fair value is recognized in other comprehensive income.

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at FVOCI category to financial assets at amortized cost, the financial asset is reclassified at its fair value at the reclassification date, and the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income is removed from equity and adjusted against the fair value of the financial asset at the reclassification date.

Equity securities designated to be measured at FVOCI may no longer be reclassified to another category.

Impairment. The Bank recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses (ECL) for all debt instruments not measured at FVPL and for exposures arising from loan commitments and financial guarantee contracts. ECL is based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Bank expects to receive. The difference is then discounted at an approximation to the asset's original effective interest rate and adjusted for forward-looking estimates, as appropriate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

The measurement of ECL reflects: (a) an unbiased probability-weighted amount that is determined by evaluating a range of possible outcomes; (b) the time value of money; and (c) reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default and exposure of default, with the timing of the loss also considered, and is estimated by incorporating forward-looking economic information and through the use of experienced credit judgment.

The probability of default represents the likelihood that the borrower will default either over the next 12 months or over the remaining life of the asset. Loss given default represents the Bank's expectation of the extent of loss on a default exposure. Exposure at default is an estimate of the exposure at a future default date, taking into account expected changes in the exposure after the reporting date, including repayments of principal and interest, and expected drawdowns on committed facilities.

The Bank measures loss allowances at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL for the following:

- Debt securities that are determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date; and
- Loans to customers and other financial instruments on which credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition.

The Bank considers its investment in debt securities to have a low credit risk when its credit risk rating is equivalent to "investment grade."

The 12-month ECL is the portion of ECL that results from default events on financial assets that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date. Financial instruments for which a 12-month ECL is determined, are referred to as "Stage 1 financial assets".

However, when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the allowance will be based on the lifetime ECL. Lifetime ECL is the ECL that results from all possible default events over the expected life of the financial instrument. Financial instruments for which a lifetime ECL is determined but which are not credit-impaired, are referred to as "Stage 2 financial assets."

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Bank compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial asset as at the date of initial recognition and consider reasonable and supportable information, that is available without undue cost or effort, that is indicative of significant increases in credit risk since initial recognition. The Bank also considers downgrade of credit risk rating or changes in the computed probabilities of default to determine whether significant increase in credit risk has occurred subsequent to initial recognition date. As a backstop indicator, the Bank considers that there has been a significant increase in credit risk when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due. In subsequent reporting years, if the credit risk of the financial instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the Bank reverts them to Stage 1.

At each reporting date, the Bank assesses whether financial assets carried at amortized cost are credit-impaired (referred to as "Stage 3 financial assets"). A financial asset is "credit-impaired" when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred. ECL for credit-impaired financial assets is based on the difference between the gross carrying amount and present value of estimated future cash flows. The Bank transfers credit exposures from Stage 3 (non-performing) to Stage 1 (performing) when there is sufficient evidence to support their full collection. Such exposures should exhibit both the quantitative and qualitative indicators of probable collection prior to the transfer. The quantitative indicator is characterized by payments made within an observation period. The qualitative indicator pertains to the results of assessment of the borrower's financial capacity. As a general rule, full collection is probable when payments of interest and/or principal are received for at least six months.

Financial assets at amortized cost are written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the financial asset in its entirety or a portion thereof. This is generally the case when the Bank determines that the borrower does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. This assessment is carried out at the individual asset level.

Modification or Restructuring. The Bank may modify the original terms and conditions of an existing loan, which may include, but are not limited to change in interest rates and terms, principal amount, maturity date and repayment schedule.

If modifications are considered substantial based in the assessment of the Bank, the loan is derecognized. Generally, a modification is considered substantial if the present value of the cash flows under the new terms, including net fees paid or received and discounted using the original effective interest rate is different by at least 10% from the discounted present value of remaining cash flows of the original asset.

On the other hand, if a loan has been renegotiated or modified without resulting in a derecognition, the Bank records a modification gain or loss to the extent that an impairment loss has not been already recorded based on the change in cash flows discounted at the loan's original effective interest rate.

Derecognition. A financial asset (or where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- the right to receive cash flows from the asset has expired;
- the Bank retains the right to receive cash flows from the financial asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or

- the Bank has transferred its right to receive cash flows from the financial asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Bank has transferred its right to receive cash flows from a financial asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset nor transferred control of the financial asset, the financial asset is recognized to the extent of the Bank's continuing involvement in the financial asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred financial asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the financial asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Bank could be required to repay.

Financial Liabilities

Classification. The Bank classifies its financial liabilities at initial recognition under the following categories: (a) financial liabilities at amortized cost and (b) financial liabilities at FVPL.

The Bank does not have financial liabilities at FVPL as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Financial Liabilities at Amortized Cost. Financial liabilities are categorized as financial liabilities at amortized cost when the substance of the contractual arrangement results in the Bank having an obligation either to deliver cash or another financial asset to the holder, or to settle the obligation other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of its own equity instruments.

These financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value less any directly attributable transaction costs. After initial recognition, these financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on the issue and fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized or through the amortization process.

This category includes deposit liabilities, accrued interest and other expenses, manager's check, lease liabilities and other liabilities (excluding statutory liabilities, provision for impairment losses on commitments and contingent assets and retirement liability).

Classification of Financial Instrument between Liability and Equity. A financial instrument is classified as liability if it provides for a contractual obligation to:

- Deliver cash or another financial asset to another entity;
- Exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another entity under conditions that are potentially unfavorable to the Bank; or
- Satisfy the obligation other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of own equity shares.

If the Bank does not have an unconditional right to avoid delivering cash or another financial asset to settle its contractual obligation, the obligation meets the definition of a financial liability.

Derecognition. A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or has expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in profit or loss.

If the modification of a financial liability is not accounted for as a derecognition then the amortized cost of the liability is recalculated by discounting the modified cash flows at the original effective interest rate and the resulting gain or loss is recognized in the statements of income.

Offsetting of Financial Assets and Liabilities

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

This is not generally the case with master netting agreements, and the related assets and liabilities are presented gross in the statement of financial position.

Repurchase and Reverse Repurchase Agreements

These are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities that are not quoted in an active market. They are entered into with the intention of immediate or short-term resale and are classified as financial assets held for trading. The difference between sale and repurchase price is treated as interest and accrued over the life of the agreements using the effective interest method.

Securities purchased under agreements to resell are presented as a separate line item in the statement of financial position.

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses are expenses paid in advance and recorded as asset before these are utilized. Prepaid expenses are apportioned over the period covered by the payment and charged to appropriate expense accounts in profit or loss when incurred. Prepaid expenses that are expected to be realized for no more than 12 months after the financial reporting date are classified as current assets. Otherwise, these are classified as noncurrent assets.

Property and Equipment

Land is stated at cost less any impairment in value. Depreciable property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, amortization and any impairment in value.

The initial cost of property and equipment consists of its purchase price, including import duties, nonrefundable taxes and any directly attributable costs of bringing the assets to its working condition and location for its intended use.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or are recognized as separate assets, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Bank and the asset can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the year in which these are incurred.

Depreciation and amortization are calculated using the straight-line method to allocate cost or residual values over the estimated useful lives as follows:

| | Number of Years |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| Buildings and improvements | 25 |
| Furniture, fixtures and equipment | 5 |
| Transportation equipment | 5 |
| Right-of-use (ROU) assets | 3 to 10 or the related lease term, whichever is shorter |

The assets' estimated useful lives and depreciation and amortization method are reviewed and adjusted if appropriate, at each reporting date. Assets are reviewed for impairment whenever assets or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable.

An item of the property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item) is included in profit or loss, in the year the item is derecognized.

Fully depreciated assets are retained in the accounts until these are no longer in use and no further charge for depreciation and amortization is made in respect of those assets.

When assets are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation, amortization and any impairment loss are removed from the accounts, any resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss.

Investment Properties

Investment properties consist of foreclosed properties and properties held for capital appreciation that are not occupied by the Bank.

Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. An investment property acquired through an exchange transaction is measured at fair value of the asset acquired, unless the fair value of such an asset cannot be measured, in which case the investment property acquired is measured at carrying amount of the asset given up. Foreclosed properties are recognized as "Investment properties" upon: (a) entry of judgment in case of judicial foreclosure; (b) execution of Certificate of Sale in case of extra-judicial foreclosure; or (c) notarization of the "Deed of Dacion" in case of dation in payment (dacion en pago). Subsequent to initial recognition, depreciable investment properties are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation, and any impairment in value. Land is carried at cost less any impairment losses.

Expenditures incurred after the investment properties have been put into operations, such as repairs and maintenance costs, are normally charged to profit or loss in the year in which the costs are incurred.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis using the remaining useful life from the time of acquisition of the investment properties but not to exceed 10 years for buildings, except if significant renovation is made thereon and the estimated useful life of the building has been extended.

Transfers are made to investment properties when, and only when, there is a change in use evidenced by ending of owner occupation, commencement of an operating lease to another party or ending of construction or development. Transfers are made from investment properties when, and only when, there is a change in use evidenced by commencement of owner occupation or commencement of development with view to sale.

Investment properties are derecognized upon disposal or when the investment properties are permanently withdrawn from use and no future benefit is expected from their disposal. Any gains or losses arising on derecognition of investment properties (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item) are recognized in profit or loss in the year of retirement or disposal.

Impairment of Nonfinancial Assets

At each reporting date, the Bank assesses whether there is any indication of impairment on nonfinancial assets. When an indicator of impairment exists or when an annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Bank makes a formal estimate of recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's (or cash-generating units) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is assessed as part of the cash-generating unit to which it belongs. Where the carrying amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset (or cash-generating unit) is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognized in profit or loss.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or cash-generating unit). In determining fair value less cost of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transaction can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to its recoverable amount. That increased amount cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation and amortization, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in profit or loss. After such reversal, the depreciation and amortization are adjusted in future years to allocate the asset's revised carrying amount, less any residual value, on a systematic basis over its remaining useful life.

Equity

Capital Stock. Capital stock is measured at par value for all shares issued. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of common shares are recognized as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects.

Reserves. Reserves represent the appropriation of retained earnings in relation to allowance for credit losses on loans receivables from customers which are less than the 1.0% general provision prescribed by the BSP for regulatory purposes. These also include portion of the Bank's income from trust operations and reserve for contingencies and self-insurance.

Retained Earnings. Retained earnings include cumulative balance of net income or loss, effects of the changes in accounting policy and other capital adjustments. Appropriated retained earnings represent the portion which has been restricted and are not available for dividend declaration. Unappropriated retained earnings represent the portion which can be declared as dividends to stockholders.

Dividend Declaration. Dividends are recognized as a liability and deducted from equity when approved by the BOD of the Bank. Dividends for the year that are approved after year end are dealt with as an event after the reporting date.

Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Other comprehensive income (loss) comprises items of income and expenses (including items previously presented under equity) that are not recognized in profit or loss for the year in accordance with PFRS Accounting Standards. Other comprehensive income (losses), which are accumulated under "Other equity reserves" account, pertain to cumulative unrealized gains (losses) on fair value changes of investment securities, cumulative translation adjustment and cumulative remeasurement gains on retirement liability.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when the customer obtains control of the services at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Bank expects to be entitled in exchange for those services. Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Bank and the revenue can be measured reliably.

The Bank also assesses its revenue arrangements to determine if it is acting as a principal or as an agent. The Bank has assessed that it acts as a principal in all of its revenue sources, except for revenue from trust operations.

The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Interest Income. For all financial instruments measured at amortized cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Bank estimates cash flows considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider future credit losses. The calculation includes all fees paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective rate, transaction costs and all other premiums or discounts.

Any differences in the acquisition price of a financial asset from its maturity value is treated as "Unearned interest" and reported in the liability section of the statement of financial position.

When a financial asset becomes credit-impaired and is, therefore, regarded as Stage 3, the Bank calculates interest income by applying the effective interest rate to the net amortized cost of the financial asset. If the financial asset cures and is no longer credit-impaired, the Bank reverts to calculating interest income on a gross basis.

Service Fees and Commissions. Service charges and penalties, which are presented as part of "Service fees and commissions" in profit or loss, are recognized only upon collection or accrued when there is a reasonable degree of certainty as to its collectability. Commissions arising from providing transaction services are recognized upon completion of the transaction.

Rent Income. Rent income arising on leased properties is accounted for on a straight-line basis of accounting over the lease terms of ongoing operating leases and is recognized in profit or loss as part of "Other Income." Contingent rent are recognized as revenue in the period in which these are earned Dividend Income. Dividend income is recognized when the Bank's right to receive payment is established.

Other Income. Revenue is recognized when earned.

Costs and Expense Recognition

Costs and expenses are recognized in profit or loss when a decrease in future economic benefit related to a decrease in an asset or an increase of a liability has arisen that can be measured reliably. Costs and expenses are recognized upon receipt of goods, utilization of services or when the costs and expenses are incurred.

Interest Expense. Interest expense is recognized in profit or loss using the effective interest rate of the financial liabilities to which these relate.

Operating Expenses. Operating expenses constitute costs which arise in the normal business operations and are recognized when incurred.

Leases

The Bank considers whether a contract contains a lease at the inception of a contract. A contract contains a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

The Bank as a Lessee. At commencement date of the lease, the Bank recognizes ROU assets and corresponding lease liabilities, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less).

For short-term leases, the Bank recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

ROU Assets

ROU assets are initially measured at cost, which consist of the initial measurement of the lease liabilities, any initial direct costs incurred, an estimate of any costs to dismantle and remove the asset at the end of the lease, and any lease payments made in advance of the lease commencement date.

Subsequent to initial measurement, the ROU assets are amortized on a straight-line basis using the expected useful life of three to 10 years or the lease term, whichever is shorter. In addition, ROU assets are periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, an adjusted for certain remeasurements of lease liabilities.

ROU assets are presented as part of "Property and equipment" account in the statement of financial position.

Lease Liabilities

Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of the unpaid lease payments, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease (if readily available) or the Bank's incremental borrowing rate. Incremental borrowing rate is the rate of interest that the Bank would have to pay to borrow over a similar term and with a similar security the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the ROU assets in a similar economic environment. Generally, the Bank uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liabilities consists of fixed payments and, if any, variable payments based on an index or rate, amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, and payments arising from options reasonably certain to be exercised.

Subsequent to initial measurement, lease liabilities will be reduced for payments made and increased for interest. It is remeasured to reflect any reassessment or modification, or if there are changes in the fixed payments. When the lease liabilities are remeasured, the corresponding adjustment is reflected in the ROU assets, or profit and loss if the ROU assets are already reduced to zero.

The Bank as a Lessor. Leases where the Bank retains substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the asset are classified as operating leases. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rent is recognized as revenue in the period in which these are earned.

Employee Benefits

Short-term Benefits. Short term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided.

A provision is recognized for the amount expected to be paid under short-term cash bonus, short-term compensated absences or profit-sharing plans if the Bank has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be measured reliably.

Retirement Benefits. The Bank operates a funded, defined contribution (DC) plan covering its regular employees wherein the Bank pays a fixed contribution into a separate entity known as the trustee, which administers, manages and invests the funds. The Bank is covered under Republic Act (RA) No. 7641, Retirement Law, which provides for its qualified employees a defined benefit (DB) minimum guarantee. The DB minimum guarantee is equivalent to a certain percentage of the monthly salary payable to an employee at normal retirement age with the required credited years of service based on the provisions of RA No. 7641.

The Bank accounts for its retirement obligation as the higher of the DB obligation relating to the minimum guarantee and the DC plan. For the DB minimum guarantee plan, the retirement liability is determined based on the present value of the excess of the projected DB obligation over the projected DC obligation at the end of the reporting year. The present value of the retirement liability is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rate on government bonds that have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related retirement liability. The DB obligation is calculated annually by a qualified independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

Retirement benefit costs reflect services rendered by employees to the date of valuation and incorporates assumptions concerning employees' projected salaries. The Bank recognizes service costs, comprising of current service costs, past service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements, and net interest expense or income in profit or loss. Net interest expense or income is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net DB liability or asset. Past service costs are recognized in profit or loss on the earlier of the date of the plan amendment or curtailment and the date that the Bank recognizes restructuring-related costs.

The DC liability is measured at the fair value of the DC assets upon which the DC benefits depend, with an adjustment for any margin on asset returns where this is reflected in the DC benefits.

Remeasurements of the net DB liability, which comprise actuarial gains and losses, the return on unallocated plan assets (excluding interest) and the effect of the asset ceiling (if any, excluding interest), are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent years.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognized immediately in profit or loss. The Bank recognizes gains or losses on the settlement of a DB plan when the settlement occurs.

Income Taxes

The tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognized in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current Tax. Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior years are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred Tax. Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on all temporary differences at the statement of financial position date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences with certain exceptions. Deferred income tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, carry forward of unused net operating loss carryover (NOLCO), to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and carry forward of unused MCIT and unused NOLCO can be utilized. Deferred tax, however, is not recognized when it arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting year and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient future taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax assets to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are re-assessed at the end of each reporting year and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that sufficient future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates applicable to the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (tax base) and regulations that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income taxes assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

Foreign Currency Transactions

RBU. Transactions in currencies other than Philippine Peso are recorded at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. At each reporting date, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing on the reporting date. Foreign exchange gains or losses are recognized in profit or loss in the year in which these are incurred.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates as at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined.

FCDU. As at the reporting date, the assets and liabilities of the FCDU are translated into the Bank's functional and presentation currency using the BSP closing rate, and its income and expenses are translated at the BSP weighted average rate for the year. Exchange differences arising from translation of foreign currency are recognized as other comprehensive income under "Cumulative translation adjustment". Upon disposal of the FCDU or actual remittance of FCDU profits to RBU, the deferred cumulative amount recognized as "Cumulative translation adjustment" in other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss.

Related Party Transactions

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability, directly or indirectly to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. Parties are also considered to be related if they are subject to common control or common significant influence. Related parties may be individuals or corporate entities. Transactions between related parties are based on terms similar to those offered to non-related parties.

Related party transactions are considered material and/or significant if (i) these transactions amount to 10% or higher of the Bank's total assets or, (ii) there are several transactions or a series of transactions over a 12-month period with the same related party amounting to 10% or higher of the Bank's total assets. Details of transactions entered into by the Bank with related parties are reviewed by the BOD in accordance with the Bank's related party transactions policies.

Earnings per Share (EPS)

The Bank presents basic and diluted EPS data for its common shares. Basic EPS is computed by dividing the profit or loss attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Bank by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year. Diluted EPS is determined by adjusting the profit or loss attributable to ordinary shareholders and the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding for the effects of all dilutive potential common shares, if any.

Fiduciary Activities

Assets and income arising from fiduciary activities, together with related undertakings to return such assets to customers, are excluded from the financial statements where the Bank acts in a fiduciary capacity such as nominee, trustee or agent.

Segment Reporting

Operating segments are components of the Bank: (a) that engage in business activities from which they may earn revenue and incur expenses (including revenues and expenses relating to transactions with other components of the Bank); (b) whose operating results are regularly reviewed by the Bank's senior management, its chief operating decision maker, to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segment and assess its performance; and (c) for which discrete financial information is available.

For purposes of management reporting, the Bank's operating businesses are organized and managed separately based on the nature of the business segment, with each business representing a strategic business segment.

Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Bank has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Where the Bank expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, for example under an insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognized as a separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the statement of income net of any reimbursement.

Contingencies

Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements but are disclosed in the notes to financial statements when an inflow of economic benefits is probable. Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the financial statements. These are disclosed in the notes to financial statements unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote.

Events after the Reporting Year

The Bank identifies events after the end of the reporting year as those events, both favorable and unfavorable, that occur between the end of the reporting year and the date when the financial statements are authorized for issue. The financial statements of the Bank are adjusted to reflect those events that provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting year. Non-adjusting events after the end of the reporting year are disclosed in the notes to financial statements, when material.

3. Significant Judgments, Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to exercise judgment, make estimates, and use assumptions that affect amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses reported in the financial statements and related disclosures. The judgments, estimates and assumptions used in the financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as at the date of the financial statements. While management believes that the assumptions are reasonable and appropriate, significant differences in the actual experience or significant changes in the assumptions may materially affect the estimated amounts. Actual results could differ from such estimates.

Judgments

In the process of applying the Bank's accounting policies, management has made the following judgment, apart from those involving estimations, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements.

Determining the Classification of Financial Assets. Classification of financial assets depends on the results of the business model test and sole payment of principal and interest (SPPI) test performed by the Bank.

The Bank exercises judgment in determining the business model to be used in managing its financial instruments to achieve their business objectives.

Below are the factors considered by the Bank in its business model assessment, among others:

- Specific business objectives in holding the financial assets.
- Policies in managing the risks of the financial assets.
- Expected frequency, value and timing of sales.
- Key performance indicators of the financial assets.

The Bank also determines whether the contractual terms of debt securities classified and measured as financial assets at amortized cost give rise to specified dates to cash flows that are SPPI, with interest representing time value of money and credit risk associated with the outstanding principal amount. Any other contractual term that changes the timing or amount of cash flows does not meet the SPPI test.

Determining the Functional Currency. The Bank uses its judgment to determine the functional currency such that it most faithfully represents the economic effects of the underlying transactions, events and conditions that are relevant to the entity. In making this judgment, the Bank considers the following:

- The currency that mainly influences sales price for financial instruments and services or the currency in which sales prices for its financial instruments and services are denominated and settled.
- The currency in which funds from financing activities are generated.
- The currency in which receipts from operating activities are usually retained.

Based on the foregoing and the economic substance of the underlying circumstances relevant to the Bank, the functional currency of the Bank has been determined to be the Philippine Peso, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Bank operates.

Determining the Classification of Lease Arrangements and Appropriate Lease Term and Discount Rates. The Bank, as a lessee, has existing lease agreements with related parties and third parties for its branches.

The Bank recognizes ROU assets and lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term using the Bank's incremental borrowing rate, except for its short-term leases.

The Bank has exercised significant judgment in determining the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or in any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised.

The Bank has lease contracts that include extension and termination options. The Bank applies judgment evaluating whether it is reasonably certain whether or not to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. It considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise either the renewal or termination. After the commencement, the Bank reassess the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within the control that affects the ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to renew or terminate such as construction of a significant leasehold improvement or significant customization of the leased asset.

The Bank elected not to recognize ROU assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases. The Bank recognizes the lease payments associated with these leases as expense on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Significant management judgment was likewise exercised by the Bank in determining the discount rate, whether implicit rate, if readily available or incremental rate, to be used in calculating the present value of ROU assets and lease liabilities. The discount rate used is 2.78% to 7.08% in 2025 and 2024, which pertain to the incremental borrowing rates based on the Bloomberg Valuation Service (BVAL) rates adjusted by credit spread of the Bank.

Reassessments are made on a continuing basis whether changes should be reflected in the amount of lease liabilities due to circumstances affecting lease payments and discount rates.

The amounts recognized in the financial statements in relation to the Bank's lease agreements are disclosed in Notes 10 and 24.

Determining the Operating Segments. Determination of operating segments is based on the information about components of the Bank that management uses to make decisions about the operating matters. Operating segments use internal reports that are regularly reviewed by the Bank's chief operating decision maker in order to allocate resources to the segment and assess its performance.

The Bank determined that its operating segments are organized and managed separately based on the nature of the business segment, with each business representing a strategic business segment (see Note 29).

Evaluating Contingencies. The Bank is currently involved in legal proceedings. The estimate of the probable costs for the resolution of these claims has been developed in consultation with outside counsel handling the Bank's defense in these matters and is based upon an analysis of potential results. Management does not believe that these proceedings will have a material adverse effect on its financial position. It is possible, however, that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in the estimates or in the effectiveness of the strategies relating to these proceedings.

Information about the contingencies and commitments of the Bank are included in Note 28, Commitments and Contingent Assets and Liabilities.

Estimates and Assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the financial reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimate is revised and in any future years affected.

Determining the Fair Values of Financial Instruments. Certain financial assets and liabilities which are carried at fair value and whose fair values are disclosed, requires extensive use of accounting estimates. While significant components of fair value measurement were determined using verifiable objective evidence, the amount of changes in fair value would differ if the Bank utilized different valuation methodologies. Any changes in fair value of these financial assets would affect profit and loss and equity.

When the fair values of financial assets and liabilities recognized or disclosed in the financial statements cannot be derived from the active market, the fair values are determined using internal valuation techniques that include the use of mathematical models. The inputs to these models are taken from observable market where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgment is required in establishing fair values.

The fair values of the Bank's financial instruments are disclosed in Note 4.

Estimating the Credit and Impairment Losses on Financial Assets. Credit and impairment losses on financial assets are based on ECL. In assessing the ECL, the Bank uses historical credit loss experience adjusted for forward-looking factors, as appropriate.

The Bank measures impairment loss based on the 12-month ECL for the following:

- Debt securities that are determined to have credit risk rating equivalent to "investment grade", and thus, a low credit risk at the reporting date.
- Receivables from customers and other financial instruments on which credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition.

The Bank measures impairment loss based on the lifetime ECL for receivables from customers for which credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, or when:

- Borrower or a group of borrowers are experiencing financial difficulty;
- Payment delinquency in principal and/or interest payments (missed payments);
- Financial or management reorganization which may impact borrower's ability to meet its contractual obligations with the Bank;
- There is adverse information gathered from credit bureau or industry sources;
- Borrower defaulted in his account/s with other lenders;
- Adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to impact the borrower's ability to pay obligations;
- Significant change in the value of the collateral or quality of third party guarantees which are expected to reduce borrower's economic incentive to pay their obligations;
- Change in the performance and behavior of the borrower;
- Borrower has missed payment for loan obligations between 16 and 90 days from due date or based on the approved curing period of the Bank; and
- Restructured account is in current status but has not yet established track record of six months' consecutive payments from restructuring date.

In estimating ECL, the Bank estimates the amounts and timing of future cash flows and collateral values and assesses whether there is a significant increase in credit risk. Below are the components considered in the calculation of ECL.

- Statistical models which are primarily based on regression analysis.
- Internal Credit Risk Rating (ICRR) and certain qualitative factors in determining whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk to determine when to measure lifetime credit losses.
- Latest fair values of collaterals and historical recovery rates of foreclosed assets for loss given default calculations.
- Segmentation of financial assets for collective assessment of ECL.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- Significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower.
- A breach of contract, such as a default or past due event.
- The lenders of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower concessions that the lenders would not otherwise consider.
- It is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization.
- The disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.
- The purchase or origination of a financial asset at a deep discount that reflects the incurred credit losses.

It may not be possible to identify a single discrete event - instead, the combined effect of several events may have caused financial assets to become credit-impaired.

Financial Assets at FVOCI - Debt Securities

The Bank recognized provision for credit and impairment losses on debt securities classified as financial assets at FVOCI amounting to ₱402 and ₱2,258 in 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 13). Reversal of allowance for credit and impairment losses amounted to ₱5,828 and in 2023 (see Note 13).

Details of certain debt securities at FVOCI are disclosed in Note 8.

Financial Assets at Amortized Cost

The Bank recognized provision for credit and impairment losses on government securities and corporate bonds classified under financial assets at amortized cost amounting to ₱316 and ₱3,196 in 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 13). Reversal of allowance for credit and impairment losses recognized in 2023 amounted to ₱4,074 (see Note 13).

Details of certain financial assets at amortized cost are disclosed in Note 8.

Loans and Receivables

In 2025, the Bank recognized provision amounting to ₱117,309. A reversal of allowance for credit and impairment losses amounting to ₱297,681 and ₱821,496 was recognized in 2024 and 2023, respectively (see Note 13).

Details of loans and receivables are disclosed in Note 9.

Other Financial Assets at Amortized Cost

For other financial assets at amortized cost such as cash and other cash items, due from BSP and other banks, securities purchased under resale agreement, refundable deposits, other investments, and RCOI (included under "Others" in the "Other assets" account), no allowance for credit and impairment losses was recognized because these are placements with reputable counterparties that possess good ratings.

The carrying amount of the other financial assets at amortized cost are discussed in Notes 6, 7 and 12.

Commitments and Contingent Assets

The Bank has recognized allowance for impairment losses on commitments and contingent assets amounting to ₱14,257 as at December 31, 2025 and 2024 (see Note 13). These pertain to commitments and contingent assets which are not reflected in the financial statements.

Determining the Classification between Investment Properties and Owner-occupied Properties. The Bank determines whether a property qualifies as investment property. In making its judgment, the Bank considers whether the property generates cash flows largely independent of the other assets held by an entity. Owner-occupied properties generate cash flows that are attributable not only to property but also to the other assets used in the ordinary course of business.

Some properties consist of a portion that is held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation and another portion that is held for use in the ordinary course of business or for administrative purposes. If these portions cannot be sold separately, the property is accounted for as investment property only if an insignificant portion is held for use in the ordinary course of business or for administrative purposes. Judgment is applied in determining whether ancillary services are so significant that a property does not qualify as investment property. The Bank considers each property separately in making judgment.

The Bank classifies all properties which have a portion that is earning rentals and another portion which are used in the ordinary course of business or used in administrative purposes as owner-occupied properties based on the criterion above. In this case, such properties were included under the "Property and equipment" account.

Estimating the Useful Lives of Depreciable Property and Equipment (including ROU Assets), and Investment Properties, and Computer Software. The Bank estimates the useful lives of depreciable property and equipment and investment properties, and computer software, and for purposes of computing depreciation and amortization based on the year over which the assets are expected to be available for use.

The estimated useful lives are reviewed annually and changed if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear, technical or commercial obsolescence and legal or other limits on the use of the assets. However, it is possible that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in factors mentioned in the foregoing. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any year would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances. A reduction in the estimated useful lives of the property and equipment, investment properties, and computer software would increase the recorded expenses and decrease assets.

There was no change in the estimated useful lives of the property and equipment and investment properties, and computer software in 2025 and 2024. The carrying amounts of depreciable assets are discussed in Notes 10, 11, and 12.

Assessing the Impairment on Nonfinancial Assets. The Bank assesses impairment on property and equipment (including ROU assets), investment properties, and computer software whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable.

The factors that the Bank considers important which could trigger an impairment review include the following:

- Significant underperformance relative to expected historical or projected future operating results.
- Significant changes in the manner of use of the acquired assets or the strategy for overall business.
- Significant negative industry or economic trends.

There is no indicator that the nonfinancial assets, except for investment properties, are impaired. Accordingly, no provision for impairment losses on property and equipment and computer software was recognized 2025, 2024 and 2023.

In 2024, the Bank recognized a reversal of impairment losses on investment properties amounting to ₱80,604 (see Note 11).

The carrying amounts of the nonfinancial assets are discussed in Notes 10, 11, and 12.

Determining the Retirement Liability. The present value of the excess of the projected DB minimum guarantee over the projected DC obligation at the end of the reporting period depends on a number of factors that are determined on an actuarial basis. The assumptions used in determining the net cost (income) for pensions include the discount rate. Any changes in these assumptions will impact the carrying amount of retirement obligations.

The Bank determines the appropriate discount rate at the end of each year. This is the interest rate that should be used to determine the present value of estimated future cash outflows expected to be required to settle the retirement obligations. In determining the appropriate discount rate, the Bank considers the interest rates of government securities that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid and that have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related retirement obligation.

Other key assumptions for retirement obligations are based in part on current market conditions. Additional information is disclosed in Note 21.

Assessing the Realizability of Deferred Tax Assets. The Bank reviews its deferred tax assets at each reporting date and reduces the carrying amount to the extent that is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Any deferred tax asset will be re-measured if it might result in derecognition when the expected tax law to be enacted has a possible risk on the realization. Management believes that sufficient taxable profit will be generated to allow all or part of the deferred income tax assets to be utilized.

Management assessed that it is not probable that sufficient future taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the unrecognized deferred tax assets to be utilized.

The recognized and unrecognized deferred tax assets are further discussed in Note 26.

4. Financial Risk Management

The Bank has exposure to the following major risks from its use of financial instruments:

- Credit risk
- Liquidity risk
- Market risk
- Operational risk

Risk Management Framework

The BOD is responsible for establishing and maintaining a sound risk management framework. This includes understanding the nature and level of risks assumed by the bank. The overall management of risks lies on the business strategy as directed by the BOD through approved policies in risk management.

The Bank identifies the major risks and said major risks are classified between quantifiable risks and non-quantifiable risks. Quantifiable risks include liquidity risk, market risk and credit risk, while Non-Quantifiable risks include operational risk and other related risks where impact is considered.

Through the direction of the BOD, the following comprise the risk management structure of the Bank:

Executive Committee. The Executive Committee plays the crucial role of analyzing, evaluating, and approving product attributes such as: market, liquidity and credit risk; operations risk; control and compliance; audit, legal and regulatory; and system and technology issues for new activities/products.

Senior Management. The Senior Management is responsible for the implementation and ensure compliance of department personnel to Risk Management policies and oversee day-to-day operations within the bank. They are tasked to make recommendations and endorse reports from departments to the BOD.

Risk Oversight Committee (ROC). The ROC is responsible for the creation and oversight of the Bank's corporate risk policy. Along with the Risk-Taking Party and Risk Management Department (RMD), they are tasked to identify and analyze the risks faced by the Bank, to set and recommend to the BOD the quantified reports and assessment of risks exposures, and to ensure that each business unit continuously monitors the adequacy and soundness of policies, assumptions and practices.

Asset and Liability Committee (ALCO). The ALCO ensures that at all times the Bank maintains adequate liquidity, sufficient capital and appropriate funding to meet all business requirements and complies with all regulatory requirements.

Credit and Loan Review Committee (CLRC). The CLRC is primarily responsible for credit risk management of the Bank. It establishes the standards for credit analysis, define credit risk measurements, establish internal risk ratings and review the credit risk infrastructure's ability to support the Bank's risk policies.

Risk Management Department (RMD). The RMD is an independent business function that is tasked to identify, measure, mitigate, monitor and report risks from the Bank's trading, position-taking, lending, borrowing, and other transactional activities.

Audit Committee (AC). The AC is responsible for monitoring compliance with the Bank's risk management policies and procedures, and for reviewing the adequacy of the risk management system in place in relation to the risks faced by the Bank. The Bank's AC is assisted in its oversight role by Internal Audit (IA). IA undertakes both regular and ad hoc reviews of risk management controls and procedures, the results of which are reported to the AC.

Credit Risk

The Bank's credit risk arises from lending, trade finance, and investment activities and represents the risk of loss due to a borrower's or counterparty's failure to meet its contractual obligations.

Credit Risk Management

Measurement of Credit Risk. In measuring credit risk at a counterparty level, the Bank considers three components: (i) the probability of default by the client or counterparty on its contractual obligations; (ii) current exposures to the counterparty and its likely future development; and (iii) the likely recovery ratio on the defaulted obligations.

The Bank holds collateral on most of its loans and receivables in the form of mortgage interest over real property and deposits of the borrowers with the Bank. Estimates of fair value of the property are based on the value of collateral assessed at the time of borrowing and are updated periodically or when a loan is individually assessed as impaired.

Credit risk exposure to financial assets is managed through risk assessment of individual exposures, including the setting and regular review of transaction and counterparty limits, as well as lending authorities delegated to credit officers, to ensure that the credit risk is kept to acceptable levels.

Due from BSP and Other Banks and Securities Purchased Under Resale Agreement. The credit risk for due from BSP and other banks and securities purchased under resale agreement with the BSP is not considered significant because the counterparties are the BSP, which is considered risk free, and reputable banks with high quality external credit ratings.

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, due from BSP and other banks and securities purchased under resale agreement are classified as "high grade" under Stage 1 financial assets.

Investments in Debt Securities. Investments in debt securities pertain to a portfolio of government securities. ECL for these investments is determined using the probability of default provided in Bloomberg. Investments in debt securities are classified as "high grade" under Stage 1 financial assets.

Loans and Receivables. In respect of loans to borrowers, the Bank is not exposed to any significant credit risk to any single counterparty. Credit risk is determined by the Bank after considering historical, forward-looking information and credit enhancements on collaterals. The credit risk for loans and receivables are considered minimal since loans are fully covered by collaterals.

The amount and type of collateral required depend on the assessment of the credit risk of the borrower or counterparty. Guidelines are established and implemented regarding the acceptability of types of collateral valuation and parameters.

The Bank's policy is to dispose of foreclosed properties in the most expeditious manner possible. Sale is facilitated by offering incentives to the Bank's accredited brokers and through evaluating and offering credit terms, which includes reduced rates for down payment as compared to prevailing market rates.

Credit-related Commitments. The primary purpose of these instruments is to ensure that funds are available to a customer as required. Standby letters of credit carry the same risk as loans. Documentary and commercial letters of credit - which are written undertaking by the Bank on behalf of a customer authorizing a third party to draw drafts on the Bank up to a stipulated amount under specific terms and conditions - are collateralized by the underlying shipments of goods to which they relate and therefore carry less risk than a direct loan.

Maximum Exposure to Credit Risk before Collaterals Held or Other Credit Enhancements

Credit risk exposures relating to significant on-balance sheet financial assets are as follows:

| | Note | 2025 | 2024 |

For loans receivable from customers, the credit quality is generally monitored using the Bank's internal rating system. It is the Bank's policy to maintain accurate and consistent risk ratings across the credit portfolio. This facilitates management to focus on major potential risk and the comparison of credit exposures across all lines of business, demographics and products. The rating system has two parts, namely: the borrower's risk rating and the facility risk rating. It is supported by a variety of financial analytics, combined with an assessment of management and market information to provide the main inputs for the measurement of credit risk.

The Bank uses ICRR to classify the credit quality of its receivable portfolio. This is being upgraded, as necessary, to enhance credit evaluation parameters across different market segments and achieve a more sound and robust credit risk assessment.

Descriptions and classifications of the loan grades used by the Bank for receivables from customers are as follows:

| Risk Rating | Classification | Credit Quality |
|--------------------|-----------------------|-----------------------|
| 1 | Excellent | High Grade |
| 2 | Strong | High Grade |
| 3 | Good | High Grade |
| 4 | Satisfactory | Standard Grade |
| 5 | Acceptable | Standard Grade |
| 6 | Watchlist | Standard Grade |
| 7 | Special Mention | Impaired |
| 8 | Substandard | Impaired |
| 9 | Doubtful | Impaired |
| 10 | Loss | Impaired |

Risk Rating 1 – Excellent. The borrower has no history of delinquency and is paying as agreed.

A borrower in this category is highly liquid, can be sustained and has a strong repayment capacity. The financial condition of the borrower is good, with above industry average financial indicators.

The borrower has no existing disruptions and/or future disruptions are unlikely. The borrower is a market leader with above average profit, not dependent on a few customers and suppliers, and stable with good probability for growth.

Under this category, the borrower’s management ability demonstrated competence under the current business model, with well thought-out corporate strategy and sensible and efficient management structure.

Risk Rating 2 – Strong. The borrower has no history of delinquency and is paying as agreed.

A borrower in this category has strong operating trends and liquidity is adequate. The borrower has no existing disruptions and/or future disruptions are unlikely. The borrower’s management ability demonstrated competence under the current business model.

Borrower has a strong market and financial position with a history of successful performance. The overall debt service capacity as measured by cash flow to total debt service is very strong; the critical balance sheet ratios are within the industry average.

Risk Rating 3 – Good. The borrower is paying as agreed and no history of default in the last 12 months.

The borrower’s borrowing base supports the line of credit. The borrower has no existing disruptions and/or future disruptions are unlikely. The borrower’s management ability demonstrated competence under the current business model.

A borrower in this category usually exhibits characteristics of some degree of stability and substance and the probability of default is still quite low.

Risk Rating 4 – Satisfactory. The borrower under this category is paying as agreed and has adequate to marginal repayment capacity. There are disruptions identified from external factors but the borrower has or will likely overcome.

Risk Rating 5 – Acceptable. Borrower's account status is current. However, it has marginal liquidity. There is a declining trend in operations of the borrower.

This category represents borrowers who may still be able to withstand normal business cycles. However, any prolonged unfavorable economic and/or market condition would create an immediate deterioration beyond acceptable level.

Risk Rating 6 – Watchlist. Borrower's account status is current. However, the borrower is incurring delays of up to 30 to 60 days, but with probability that it will be brought back to current. Adverse business, financial, or economic conditions will likely impair the borrower's capacity or willingness to meet its financial requirements.

Operating performance and financial strength may be marginal and it is uncertain whether the borrower can attract alternative sources of financing. Typically, the borrower will find it very hard to cope with any significant economic downturn and a default in such a case is more than a possibility.

Risk Rating 7 – Special Mention. There is an evidence of weakness in financial condition or credit-worthiness for borrowers under this category.

A borrower in this category is characterized by some probability of default, manifested by some or all of the following:

- Evidence of weakness in the borrower's financial condition or creditworthiness;
- Unacceptable risk generated by potential or emerging weaknesses as far as asset protection and/or cash flow is concerned. Concerns center on the potential for a continuation of unfavorable economic, market, or borrower specific conditions or trends, which may affect future debt service capacity;
- Indications that the borrower's ability or willingness to service debt are in doubt;
- Necessity or strong likelihood for rescheduling of the loan; and
- Decline in values of, or adverse developments on, collaterals securing the loan.

These loans have potential weaknesses that deserve close attention. These potential weaknesses, if left uncorrected, may affect the repayment of the loan, and thus increase credit risk to the Bank.

Some of their basic characteristics are:

- Loans with missing collateral folders and documents including but not limited to title papers, mortgage instruments, and promissory notes.
- Loans to firms not supported by Board Resolutions authorizing the borrowing.
- Loans with no credit investigation report.
- Loans with no latest income tax returns and/or latest audited financial statements.
- Loans whose repayment may be endangered by economic or market conditions.
- Loans to borrowers whose properties securing the loan (previously well secured by collateral) have declined in value with other adverse information.
- Loans past due for more than 30 days up to 90 days.

A downgrade of the account to this rating (7 – Poor / Special Mention) becomes necessary when:

- The Bank is still a 'going concern', still performing and non-defaulting.
- Action and/or restructuring is imminent.
- A restructuring is perceived to be without any loss perspective.

Risk Rating 8 – Substandard. The borrower is currently highly vulnerable and is in a state of default. Substandard loans are loans or portions thereof which appear to involve a substantial and unreasonable degree of risk to the Bank because of unfavorable or unsatisfactory characteristics. The debt burden for borrowers under this category is too heavy, with either weak or negative cash flows. These well-defined adverse elements exist in such loans where there is a possibility of future loss to the institution unless given closer supervision. Such adverse elements or political nature, or b) significant weakness in collateral.

Basic characteristics are:

- Past due and circumstances are such that there is an imminent possibility of foreclosure or acquisition of the collateral because of failure of all collection efforts.
- Past due loans to borrowers whose properties securing the loan have declined in value materially or have been found with defects as to ownership or other adverse information.
- Current loans to borrowers whose financial statements audited by SEC-accredited external auditors show impaired/negative net worth except for startup firms which should be elevated on a case-to-case basis.
- Renewed loans of borrowers with declining trend in operations, illiquidity, or increasing leverage trend in the borrower's financial statements without at least 20% repayment of the principal before renewal or extension.
- Current loans or borrowers with unfavorable results of operations for two consecutive years or with impaired/negative net worth except for startup firms which should be evaluated on a case-to-case basis.
- Loans under litigation.
- Loans past due for more than 90 days.

Risk Rating 9 – Doubtful. Borrower is in a state of default, where any of the following factors are present:

- Account is already in “non-performing loan” (NPL) status;
- Any portion of any principal and/or interest repayment is in arrears for more than 90 days;
- The borrower is unable or unwilling to service debt over an extended period of time and near future prospects of orderly debt service is doubtful; and
- Overdue loans wherein the prospects of full application of the value of the collateral to the loan is impaired due to material declines in market values of the collateral, or the collateral is subject of adverse claim.

While the extent of probability of loss cannot be exactly ascertained at this point, there may be certain pending important and reasonable factors from the borrowers’ side that can result in the strengthening of the assets of the borrower, which will thus work to the advantage of the lending bank. These pending assets-strengthening factors include merger, acquisition, additional capital infusion and additional cover.

Risk Rating 10 – Loss. Borrower is in a state of default and the prospect for re-establishment of creditworthiness and debt service is remote.

This category also applies where the Bank will take or has taken title to the assets of the borrower and is preparing a foreclosure and/or repossession.

Significant Increase in Credit Risk. When determining whether the risk of default on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Bank considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Bank’s historical experience and expert credit assessment and including forward-looking information. A significant increase in credit risk can be measured by comparing the probability of default of the counterparty as at reporting date from probability of default on the date of initial recognition.

Other indications may include, among others, potential credit weaknesses based on current and/or forward-looking information that warrant management’s close attention and adverse or foreseen adverse economic or market conditions that may affect the counterparty’s ability to meet the scheduled repayments in the future.

Definition of Default. The Bank considers default to have occurred when: (a) the obligor is past due for more than 90 days on any material credit obligation to the Bank; or (b) the obligor is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Bank in full, without recourse by the Bank to actions such as realizing collateral, as applicable. The Bank no longer considers an instrument to be in default when it no longer meets any of the default criteria and has exhibited satisfactory and acceptable track record for six consecutive payment periods, subject to applicable rules and regulations of the BSP.

Credit Quality per Classification of Financial Assets

The Bank has developed and continually reviews and calibrates its internal risk rating system for large exposures aimed at uniformly assessing its credit portfolio in terms of risk profile.

The following table provides the analysis of credit quality of the of the Bank's financial assets (gross of allowance for credit and impairment losses) classified as Stage 1, 2 or 3 financial assets.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is generally defined as the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from the Bank's inability to meet its obligations in all currencies when they become due without incurring unacceptable losses or costs.

Liquidity Risk Management

The Bank manages liquidity by maintaining sufficient funding to meet its obligations as they fall due under both normal and stressed conditions. Liquidity is ensured through a combination of active management of liabilities, maintaining a liquid asset portfolio composed substantially of deposits in primary and secondary reserves, and access to funding sources such as money market lines and repurchase facilities. The BOD provides oversight over the Bank's liquidity risk management framework.

The table below shows the maturity profile of the Bank's financial assets and liabilities, based on contractual undiscounted cash flows (amounts in millions):

The Bank manages its short-term negative gap by taking measures to maintain long-term core deposits from regular clients and making available funds sourced from various other financial institutions, if necessary.

Liquidity Positions and Leverage of the Bank

To promote short-term resilience of bank's liquidity risk profile, the BSP requires banks and other regulated entities to maintain:

- over a 30-day calendar day horizon, an adequate level of unencumbered high-quality liquid assets (HQLA) that consists of cash or assets that can be converted into cash to offset the net cash outflows they could encounter under a liquidity stress scenario; and
- a stable funding profile in relation to the composition of their assets and off-balance sheet activities.

To monitor the liquidity levels, the Bank computes for its Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR), which is the ratio of HQLA to the total net cash outflows. As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, LCR reported to the BSP is 515.07% and 612.20%, respectively.

The Bank also computes for its Net Stable Funding Ratio (NSFR), which is the ratio of the available stable funding to the required stable funding. Both LCR and NSFR should be maintained no lower than 100% on a daily basis under normal situations.

NSFR is as follows (amount in millions):

| | 2025 | 2024 |
|--------------------------|-----------------|----------|
| Available stable funding | ₱141,975 | ₱146,176 |
| Required stable funding | 40,087 | 37,235 |
| NSFR | 3.54 | 3.93 |

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss due to adverse fluctuations in the price or market value of instruments, products, and transactions in the Bank's overall portfolio. The value of these financial instruments may change as a result of changes in interest rate, foreign exchange rate, and other market factors. The Bank's market risk originates primarily from its inventory of foreign exchange and debt securities. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control the market risk exposures within acceptable parameters, while optimizing the return on investments.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk involves the movements in interest rates across yield curves of financial instruments. The Bank is exposed to the risk of loss arising from fluctuations in the future cash flows or fair values of financial instruments due to change in market interest rates. The Bank manages its resources and liabilities to ensure that exposure to interest rates fluctuations are kept within acceptable limits. Interest rate risk is managed principally through monitoring interest rate gaps and the use of pre-approved limits for interest rate repricing.

The details of the Bank's exposure to interest rate risk at the reporting date are shown below in reference to their contractual repricing or maturity dates (amounts in millions):

Foreign Exchange Risk

Foreign exchange risk arises on financial instruments that are denominated in a foreign currency other than the functional currency in which they are measured. The Bank takes on exposure to effects of fluctuations in the prevailing foreign currency exchange rates on its financial position and cash flows.

In translating the foreign currency-denominated monetary assets into Peso, the exchange rates used were ₱58.79 to US$1 as at December 31, 2025 and ₱56.03 to US$1 as at December 31, 2024.

Information on the Bank's foreign currency-denominated monetary assets and liabilities in their Philippine Peso equivalents follows:

| Net foreign currency-denominated assets | $6,861 | ₱404,383 | ($16,279) | (₱941,651) |

Foreign currency liabilities generally consist of foreign currency deposits in the Bank's FCDU, which are generated from remittances to the Philippines by Filipino expatriates and overseas Filipino workers who retain for their own benefit or for the benefit of a third party.

Foreign currency deposits are generally used to fund the Bank's foreign currency denominated loans and FCDU investment portfolio. Banks are required by the BSP to match foreign currency assets with the foreign currency liabilities held through FCDU. In addition, the BSP requires a 30% liquidity reserve on all foreign currency liabilities held through FCDU.

The Bank's policy is to maintain foreign currency exposure within acceptable limits and within existing regulatory guidelines. The Bank believes that its profile of foreign currency exposure on its assets and liabilities is within conservative limits for a financial institution engaged in the type of business in which the Bank is engaged.

Operational Risk

Operational risk is the risk of direct or indirect loss arising from a wide variety of causes associated with the Bank's processes, personnel, technology and infrastructure, and from external factors other than credit, market, and liquidity risks such as those arising from legal and regulatory requirements and generally accepted standards of corporate behavior. Operational risks arise from Bank operations.

The Bank's objective is to manage operational risk so as to balance the avoidance of financial losses and damage to the Bank's reputation with overall cost effectiveness and to avoid control procedures that restrict initiative and creativity.

The primary responsibility for the development and implementation of controls to address operational risk is assigned to senior management. This responsibility is supported by the development of overall standards for the management of operational risk in the following areas:

- Requirements for appropriate segregation of duties, including the independent authorization of transactions;
- Requirements for the reconciliation and monitoring of transactions;
- Compliance with regulatory and other legal requirements;
- Documentation of controls and procedures;
- Requirements for the periodic assessment of operational risks faced, and the adequacy of controls and procedures to address the risks identified;
- Requirements for the reporting of operational losses and proposed remedial action;
- Development of contingency plans;
- Training and professional development;
- Ethical and business standards; and
- Risk mitigation, including insurance where this is effective.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument for which it is practicable to estimate such value:

Cash and Other Cash Items, Due from BSP and Other Banks, Securities Purchased Under Resale Agreement, Refundable Deposits, Other Investments, and RCOCI. The carrying amounts approximate their fair values in view of the relatively short-term maturities of these instruments, or it approximates the amounts expected to be received.

Debt Securities. This pertains to government-issued debt securities. Fair values are generally based on quoted market prices. If the market prices are not readily available, fair values are estimated using either values obtained from independent parties offering pricing services or adjusted quoted market prices of comparable investments or using the discounted cash flow methodology.

Equity Securities. This includes quoted and unquoted equity securities. For publicly traded equity securities, fair values are based on quoted prices published in the Philippine equity markets. For unquoted equity securities for which no reliable basis for fair value measurement is available, these are carried at cost net of impairment, if any.

Loans and Receivables. Fair values of loans and receivables are estimated using the discounted cash flow methodology, using the Bank's current incremental lending rates for similar types of loans and receivables.

Generally, significant increases (decreases) in rate would result in a significantly higher (lower) fair value measurement. Significant increases (decreases) in effective interest rate would result in a significantly lower (higher) fair value measurement.

Deposit Liabilities. Carrying amounts of deposit liabilities approximate fair values considering that these are currently due and demandable.

Manager's Checks. Carrying amounts approximate fair values due to the short-term nature of the accounts.

Lease Liabilities. Carrying amounts of lease liability approximates its fair value as these are measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term using the Bank's incremental borrowing rates based on the BVAL rates.

Accrued Interest and Other Expenses and Other Liabilities. Quoted market prices are not readily available for these liabilities. These are reported at cost and are not significant in relation to the Bank's total portfolio.

There were no transfers between levels 1, 2 and 3 during the year.

5. Capital Risk Management

The Bank's capital management seeks to maintain adequate capital levels at all times, not only to comply with externally imposed capital requirements, maintain healthy capital ratios in order to support its business, withstand plausible stress events but also to optimize shareholders' value.

The Bank actively manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of the changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of its activities. In so doing, the Bank may adjust the amount of dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue capital securities. No changes were made to the objectives, policies, and processes as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Capital Management

Under the existing BSP regulations, the determination of compliance with regulatory requirements and ratios is based on the amount of the "qualifying capital" (regulatory net worth) as reported to the BSP, which is determined on the basis of the Regulatory Accounting Principles (RAP) that differ from PFRS Accounting Standards in some respects. In addition, the risk-based capital ratio of a bank or Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) expressed as a percentage of qualifying capital to risk-weighted assets should not be less than 10% at all times.

Qualifying capital and risk-weighted assets are computed based on the RAP. Risk-weighted assets consist of total assets less cash on hand, due from BSP, loans covered by hold-out on or assignment of deposits, loans or acceptances under letters of credit to the extent covered by margin deposits and other non-risk items determined by the Monetary Board of the BSP.

The CAR of the Bank as at December 31, follows (amounts in millions):

| Amounts in Thousands | 2025 | 2024 |
|-------------------------------------|----------------|-------------|
| Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) capital | ₱23,011 | ₱21,810 |
| Additional Tier 1 (AT1) capital | – | – |
| Tier 1 capital | 23,011 | 21,810 |
| Required deductions | – | – |
| Tier 1 capital | 23,011 | 21,810 |
| Tier 2 capital | 402 | 256 |
| Total Qualifying Capital | ₱23,413 | ₱22,066 |
| Total RWA | ₱71,072 | ₱64,549 |
| CET1/Tier 1 capital ratio | 32.38% | 33.78% |
| Tier 2 capital ratio | 0.56% | 0.40% |
| Total capital ratio | 32.94% | 34.18% |

The Bank has fully complied with the CAR requirement of the BSP as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

The Bank, as a universal bank with 63 branches, including Head Office, as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, is required to maintain a minimum capital of ₱15.0 billion. Accordingly, the Bank maintains an acceptable level of equity to comply with the minimum capital requirement. As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Bank has complied with the required capitalization.

As part of the reforms of the PSE to expand capital market and improve transparency among listed firms, the PSE requires listed entities to maintain a minimum of 10% of their issued and outstanding shares, exclusive of any treasury shares, held by the public. The Bank has fully complied with this requirement.

The BSP also requires the Basel III Leverage Ratio (BLR), which is designed to act as a supplementary measure to the risk-based capital requirements. BLR intends to restrict the build-up of leverage in the banking sector to avoid destabilizing deleveraging processes, which can damage the broader financial system and the economy. It also reinforces the risk-based requirements with a simple, non-risk based “backstop” measure. The BLR is computed as the capital measure (Tier 1 capital) divided by the total exposure measure and should not be less than 5.00%.

As at December 31, the BLR reported to the BSP is as follows (amounts in millions):

| | 2025 | 2024 |
|------------------------|----------------|---------|
| Tier 1 capital | ₱23,011 | ₱21,810 |
| Total exposure measure | 171,071 | 175,211 |
| BLR | 13.45% | 12.46% |

The BLR is computed based on the RAP. The Bank is compliant with the BSP requirements as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Financial Assets at FVOCI

Government-issued Debt Securities. Investments in government-issued debt securities pertain to treasury notes, treasury bonds and dollar-denominated bonds issued by the Philippine government. The fair values of these debt securities are reported using quoted market prices as at reporting date.

The Bank has been managing its debt securities under the financial asset at FVOCI business model to address potential liquidity issues. As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Bank has assessed that it has sufficient liquid assets.

Quoted market prices vary with prevailing interest rates in 2022. The fair values of the debt securities decreased significantly resulting to unrealized losses on fair value changes amounting to ₱5,471,928 recognized in other comprehensive loss pursuant to the financial reporting standard. The situation arose due to policy increases in interest rates decided upon by the authorities to control inflation. An increase in prevailing interest rates automatically reduces the reported value of fixed income securities considered as securities held for sale and classified as financial assets. In 2023, a turnaround in market interest rates occurred resulting to an unrealized fair value loss of ₱665,244 during the year. However, additional unrealized losses on fair value changes were incurred in 2024 amounting to ₱990,831.

The Bank can hold these securities to maturity at which time these are scheduled to be redeemed at their principal value. However, the Bank can also dispose of these investments should the market conditions improve. If the Bank will hold to these securities up to its maturity, there should have been no unrealized fair value losses.

The range of average interest rates of debt securities at FVOCI is as follows:

| | 2025 | 2024 | 2023 |
|---------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|
| Foreign-denominated | 1.65% to 6.38% | 1.65% to 6.38% | 1.65% to 6.38% |
| Peso-denominated | – | – | – |

Interest income from financial assets at FVOCI amounted to ₱646,171, ₱722,695 and ₱744,008 in 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Quoted Equity Securities. Investments in quoted equity securities pertain to various shares of companies listed in the PSE. Fair values of quoted equity securities are based on quoted market prices as at reporting date.

As mandated by the BSP, on July 7, 2023, the Bank sold its investment in PBCOM for a consideration amounting to ₱1,639,330 through the execution of Contract of Purchase and Sale (CPS), resulting to a gain of ₱473,035. The consideration, which will be received through a one-time payment at the end of the five-year term, is recognized as "Receivables from sale of investment in quoted equity shares" presented under "Loans and receivables" account, net of unearned discount (see Note 9). The resulting gain from the divestment is presented separately in the statements of income as "Gain on sale of quoted equity security" since it arose from a private sale in compliance with the BSP mandate. Consequently, the Bank's income before and after the divestment are presented in the statements of income because management assessed that these are relevant to the understanding of the Bank's financial performance.

Details are as follows:

| | Note | 2025 | 2024 |
|-------------------|------|------------|------------|
| Proceeds | | ₱1,639,330 | ₱1,639,330 |

The incremental rate for similar type of instruments were used in the discounting the receivables in 2023, as the CPS does not bear interest. Provision for credit and impairment losses amounting to ₱13,190 was recognized in 2025 and 2024. Allowance for credit and impairment losses on the receivable from sale of investment in PBCOM shares amounted to ₱212,924 and ₱199,734 as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 13). Realized fair value loss at the time of sale amounting to ₱452,230 was adjusted against retained earnings in 2023.

Unquoted Equity Securities. This account is comprised of shares of stock of private corporations that are carried at cost since fair value cannot be reliably estimated due to lack of reliable estimates of future cash flows and discount rates necessary to calculate the fair value. There is currently no market for these investments and the Bank intends to hold them for long-term.

Reserves

Reserves as at December 31, 2025 and 2024 consist of:

| | 2025 | 2024 |
|---|-----------------|----------|
| Reserve for general loan loss provision | ₱85,988 | ₱144,305 |
| Reserve for contingencies | 38,658 | 38,658 |
| Reserve for self-insurance | 34,002 | 33,762 |
| Reserve for trust business | 3,074 | 2,494 |
| | ₱161,722 | ₱219,219 |

In accordance with Appendix 100 – Guidelines on the Adoption of the PFRS 9, Financial Instruments - Impairment to Section 172 of the MORB of the BSP, banks should set up general loan loss provision (GLLP) equivalent to 1% of all current loans (after excluding accounts considered as credit risk-free under existing regulations).

In cases when the computed allowance for ECL on current loans is less than the 1.0% GLLP required, the difference should be appropriated from retained earnings using the account "Retained Earnings - General Provision" in the books of the Bank.

"Retained Earnings - General Provision" amounted to ₱85,988 and ₱144,305 as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. There was no appropriation of retained earnings as at December 31, 2023 as allowance for credit and impairment losses on current loans and receivables are higher than the required 1.0% GLLP.

Reserve for self-insurance represents the amount set aside to cover losses due to fire, defalcation by and other unlawful acts of the Bank's personnel or third parties. Additional reserve amounting to ₱240 was recognized in 2025 and 2024.

In compliance with the existing BSP regulations, the Bank should, before the declaration of dividends, carry to retained earnings at least 10% of its income from trust operations since the last preceding dividend declaration until the retained earnings amount to 20% of its authorized capital stock. Additional reserve amounting to ₱580 and ₱2,174 was recognized in 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Appropriated Retained Earnings

On December 16, 2025, the Bank's Board of Directors approved the appropriation of retained earnings amounting to ₱800.0 million to fund planned information technology (IT) transformation and branch expansion initiatives. The appropriation is intended to support enhancements to the Bank's core banking system and other IT-related projects, as well as the expansion of the Bank's branch network through four additional branches, in line with the Bank's approved strategic and capital plans, to be implemented over a five-year period.

The Bank considers it prudent, in light of prevailing economic uncertainties and heightened global risks, to retain the remaining unappropriated retained earnings as capital buffers to cover potential contingencies and support the Bank's business and strategic plans, particularly against adverse foreign exchange movements and market volatility affecting the fair value of securities, among others.

Retirement Plan

The Bank has a funded, DC plan for qualifying employees. Under the plan, the employees are entitled to retirement benefits in relation to the proportion of the fair value of the total contributions on their attainment of the retirement age. The assets of the fund are being administered by trustees and are held separately from those of the Bank.

Under RA No. 7641, the Bank also provides for its qualified employees a DB minimum guarantee, which is equivalent to a certain percentage of the monthly salary payable to an employee at normal retirement age with the required credited years of service. The latest actuarial valuation report is for the year ended December 31, 2024.

The present value of the DB minimum guarantee under RA No. 7641 amounted to ₱2,584 and ₱2,374 as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 16). The Bank has no unallocated DC plan assets as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

The Bank is exposed to the risk of changes in government securities yields, wherein a decrease in government securities yields will increase the projected DB minimum guarantee, although this will be partially offset by an increase in the value of any unallocated plan assets' securities holdings.

Details of the present value of the DB minimum guarantee obligation are as follows:

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Bank's undiscounted benefit payments amounting to ₱2,584 are expected to be settled within one to five years.

The Bank's assumptions are based on actual historical experience and external data regarding salary and discount rate trends. The Bank considers that it is impracticable to disclose with sufficient reliability the possible effects of sensitivities surrounding the estimation of DB obligation.

Under RA No. 11494, Bayanihan to Recover as One Act, and Revenue Regulations No. 25-2020, the Bank is allowed to carry over its net operating losses for the taxable years 2020 and 2021 for the next five consecutive taxable years immediately following the year of such loss.

Under the Corporate Recovery and Tax Incentives for Enterprises (“CREATE”) Act, the RCIT of domestic corporations was reduced from 30% to 25% or 20% depending on the amount of total assets or total amount of taxable income. MCIT was changed from 2% to 1% of gross income for a period of three years up to June 30, 2023.

The rate of MCIT reverted to 2% based on gross income starting July 1, 2023. The impact of the revision is accounted for in 2023, if any.

Current tax rates used in 2025, 2024 and 2023 is 25% RCIT and 2%, 1.5% and 1% MCIT, respectively.

27. Trust Operations

Securities and other properties (other than deposits) held by the Bank in fiduciary or agency capacities for clients and beneficiaries are not included in the accompanying statements of financial position since these are not assets of the Bank.

In compliance with the requirements of current banking regulations relative to the Bank's trust functions: (a) government securities included under financial assets at amortized cost in the statements of financial position with a total face value of ₱20,000 as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, are deposited with the BSP as security for the Bank's faithful compliance with its fiduciary obligations; and (b) a certain percentage of the Bank's trust fee income is transferred to retained earnings. This yearly transfer is required until the retained earnings for trust function equals 20.00% of the Bank's authorized share capital.

28. Commitments and Contingent Assets and Liabilities

In the normal course of the Bank's operations, there are outstanding commitments and contingent liabilities which are not reflected in the financial statements. Management does not anticipate any material losses resulting from these transactions.

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Bank is involved in legal proceedings mainly relating to uncollected loans and foreclosed properties. Based on the assessment of management in consultation with its legal counsels, the Bank is in a good position to secure favorable judgment in most of these legal cases. Management therefore believes that the outcome of these legal proceedings will not have any material adverse effect on the financial position and performance of the Bank.

The following is a summary of contingencies and commitments of the Bank with the contractual amounts:

MANAGEMENT REPORT

A. Description of the general nature and scope of the business of the registrant

(1) Business Development

The Philippine Trust Company, also known as PHILTRUST BANK, was established more than a hundred years ago on October 21, 1916 as a trust institution. It later became a commercial bank and on June 5, 2007, it was granted by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) authority to operate as a universal bank.

Throughout its more than 100 years in banking, Philtrust Bank has acquired a reputation for conservatism and reliability and has enjoyed the trust and confidence of the business community and the general public. The said policy has enabled the Bank to grow consistently, maintain strong liquidity position, generate reasonable return on investment and create more value to the Bank.

The principal office is located at Philtrust Bank Building, 1000 United Nations Avenue corner San Marcelino Street, Manila. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for Calendar Year 2023

Financial Condition

The Bank total resources for the year 2023 reached P176.436 billion, a remarkable P7.081 billion increase compared from last year’s level of P169.355 billion. Growth in resources was driven by higher investment securities, gross loans and receivables and SPURA which more than offset the lower placement levels with Bangko Sentral Ng Pilipinas deposit facilities. Due from Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas decreased by 32.66% or by P5.615 billion as excess funds were shifted from deposit placement with Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas term and overnight deposit facilities and SPURA largely to investment securities and loans. Loans and receivables, net and SPURA increased by 25.89% and 69.17% respectively. The increase was primarily attributable to higher level of gross loans and receivables mostly attributable to auto loans which more than doubled compared from last year’s level. Financial assets at fair value through OCI decreased by 10.23% mitigated by the reduction of mark to market on debt securities. Investment properties increased by 10.67% due to increase in foreclosure of some accounts. Deferred tax assets declined by 31.01% due to reversal of allowance from ECL and roll forward of retirement liability. Movements in other assets accounts can be accounted for by transaction in the ordinary course of business.

Deposit liabilities stood at P151.698 billion, a P4.627 billion increase compared from last year’s level of P147.072 billion. Savings accounts led the increase nearly in all products which resulted in a 6.22% or by P6.216 billion. The increase in manager’s check amounting to P12.959 million can be attributed to higher volume of outstanding manager’s checks as of year end. Accrued taxes, interest and other expenses payable closed at P376.772 million, higher by P168.384 due to higher accrual of interest expense and profit sharing. Deferred credits and other liabilities increased by 124.03% or by P168.3 million due to higher level transactions for the period. Retirement benefit obligation decrease by 22.5% due to roll forward of retirement liability. All other payables were paid within the stated term.

Capital funds closed at P23.173 billion, strengthened by 7.94% or by P1.704 billion compared from last year’s level of P21.468 billion. This was mostly because of greater retained earnings, higher undivided profits and reduced net unrealized mark to market loss on financial assets held at FVOCI. Capital adequacy ratio (CAR) for the year is 43.29% which is well above the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas minimum requirements of 10%.

The Bank has outstanding commitments, contingent liabilities, and bank guarantees that arise from normal course of operations. The Bank does not anticipate any losses that will materially affect its financial position and results of operations. Changes in nature and amounts in the financial statements were due more to market related factors inherent in nature of the issuer’s business operations and were not considered unusual.

Results of Operations

Service charges and commission increased by 11.51% due to higher volume of transactions for the period. Gains/losses from sale/redemption of securities increased by 153.48% due to higher volume of transactions for the year.

Interest expense almost doubled compared from last year's level of P2.738 billion to P5.305 billion for the year 2023, triggered by higher interest rates and the quarterly recognition of interest expense for long term time deposits. Occupancy and equipment related expenses increased by P27.34 million fueled by higher administration expenses such as IT expenses due to higher technology related services cost. Taxes and licenses increased by 69.38% due to higher income subject to gross receipts tax. Net Income for the period closed at P1.029 billion compared from last year's level of P745.28 million, a 38.06% increase.

For the past years, the Bank continued to be conservative in the management of depositors and stockholder funds. I. Market Risk: Foreign Exchange and Interest Rates.

1.1 Foreign Exchange Position

Exposure to foreign exchange risk is moderate considering the current conditions and the monetary policies of BSP, the economic fundamentals are also considered as a factor. The foreign exchange and interest rates volatility will remain within moderate conditions because of BSP's proactive stance and any variance would be within the level of confidence for the following reasons:

- 1.1.1 BSP's effective management of foreign exchange reserves vis-à-vis the major global currencies, to wit: USD, EURO, SGD, GBP, JPY, HKD and AUD.
- 1.1.2 The interest rate on the USD is within the range in the short, medium, and longer term and in which case the bank will necessarily align its position.
- 1.1.3 Net open position of our bank is manageable and not speculative.

II. Liquidity Risk

The risk profile of the bank's balance sheet remains low with more concentration in liquid assets and investments in government securities other than lending. Liquid assets and investment securities accounted for ₱143.65 Billion while loans (net of allowances) amounted to ₱25.06 Billion. Marginal returns have been low by the distribution in our assets portfolio but the bank has always been strategically conservative in business policy.

III. Credit Risk

The bulk of company's loans are fully secured by real estate while some of the loan accounts are backed by guarantees, and only a small percentage of the loans are in clean basis but these are usually extended to clients with very satisfactory payment record &/or who are known to the bank for their good credit reputation. The lending process begins with credit selection and continues to administration and review of loan accounts on a regular basis. Reporting to and review by the Credit and Loans Review Committee is part of the whole credit process and done on a regular basis.

1. The bank has no hedging nor financial derivatives contracts. The bank's main financial contracts are:

Financial Assets at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI), and Debt Securities at Amortized Cost (AC).

2. Other than US Dollar denominated bonds issued by the Republic of the Philippines, the bank has no investment in foreign securities or equities.

3. Asset and liability management is involved in matching the economic characteristics of the bank's cash flows. We look at duration, the fixed/floating interest rate of our commitments, the repricing period, liquidity position and stress testing. The decisions are strategically made based on interest rate exposure. Impairment is recognized via valuation reserves in accordance with PFRS 9.

4. Before the bank makes any investment decision, it ensures that the secondary market must have liquidity, breadth, and depth to transact all tenors of financial instruments.

Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for Calendar Year 2024

Financial Condition

At the end of the fourth quarter of 2024, Total Resources closed at P175.471 billion lower by a minimal amount of P965.461 million compared to P176.436 billion in the same period last year. Due from Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas fell by 29.07% lower by P3.365 billion from P11.579 billion to P8.214 billion as more excess funds were shifted to overnight deposit facility and securities purchased under resale agreement (SPURA). Securities purchased under resale agreement (SPURA) increased by a remarkable 119.56% or by P2.793 billion from P2.336 billion to P5.130 billion. This growth was driven by more successful bids for placing the Bank’s excess loanable and investible funds into the BSP’s SPURA facility. Loans and receivables, net increased by 15.81% or by P4.196 billion from P26.533 billion from previous year to P30.729 billion to date. The increase was primarily driven by higher gross loans and receivables from customers auto loans along with accrued interest income which offset a decline in sales contract receivable (SCR). Due from other banks decreased by 13.16% due to lower level of deposits and working balances maintained with our correspondent banks. Investments securities declined by 10.58%. The reduction was primarily driven by maturity in BSP bills held at amortized cost. Proceeds from maturing securities were redirected to higher yielding assets such as loans and SPURA. Other assets accounts increased by 21.31% as movements in these accounts can be accounted for by transactions in the ordinary course of business.

Deposit liabilities stood at P151.557 billion compared to P151.698 billion from last year’s level, a minimal decrease of P140.316 million. The increase in Manager’s Checks amounting to P17.367 million can be attributed to higher volume of outstanding Manager’s checks as of year-end. Deferred credits and other liabilities decreased by 31.99% or by P329.483 million due to lower level of transactions for the period. All other payables were paid within the stated terms.

Capital funds closed at P22.676 billion reflecting, a minimal decline of P497.044 million compared from last year’s level of P23.173 billion. This contraction was primarily driven by a 31.63% increase in unrealized mark to market (MTM) losses on financial assets held at FVOCI, alongside a reduction in undivided profits. These losses outweighed the increase in retained earnings, leading to the overall decline in capital. Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) for the year is 40.95% which is well above the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas minimum requirements of 10%.

The Bank has outstanding commitments, contingent liabilities, and bank guarantees that arise from normal course of operations. Investment securities which increased by 13.39% or by P834.216 million as the Bank disposed some of its maturing securities at a higher market rate. Due to Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas and other banks decreased by 48.40% due to decline in average volume earning interest. Income from foreign exchange profit increased by a remarkable 666.55% due mainly to higher unrealized foreign revaluation gains due to depreciation of the peso vis-à-vis the USD as well as higher realized profit from spot trading and over the counter buy and sell transactions. Gain on foreclosure of properties increase by 32.83% as higher gains from sale of ROPA were recognized. The 214.10% increase in other operating income can be attributed mainly by increase in rental income and miscellaneous income.

Interest expense increased by 22.51% or by P1.195 billion triggered by higher interest rates and the quarterly recognition of interest expense for long term time deposits. Occupancy and equipment related expenses increased by 51.94% fueled by higher administrative expenses such as IT expenses due to higher technology related services cost. Exposure to foreign exchange risk is moderate considering the current conditions and the monetary policies of BSP, the economic fundamentals are also considered as a factor. The foreign exchange and interest rates volatility will remain within moderate conditions because of BSP's proactive stance and any variance would be within the level of confidence for the following reasons:

- 1.1.1 BSP's effective management of foreign exchange reserves vis-à-vis the major global currencies, to wit: USD, EURO, SGD, GBP, JPY, HKD and AUD.
- 1.1.2 The interest rate on the USD is within the range in the short, medium, and longer term and in which case the bank will necessarily align its position.
- 1.1.3 Net open position of our bank is within the FX Overbought regulatory limit.

II. Liquidity Risk

The risk profile of the bank's balance sheet remains low with more concentration in liquid assets and investments in government securities other than lending. Liquid assets and investment securities accounted for ₱138.65 Billion while loans (net of allowances) amounted to ₱29.04 Billion. Marginal returns have been low by the distribution in our assets portfolio but the bank has always been strategically conservative in business policy.

III. Credit Risk

The bulk of company's loans are fully secured by real estate while some of the loan accounts are backed by guarantees, and only a small percentage of the loans are in clean basis but these are usually extended to clients with very satisfactory payment record &/or who are known to the bank for their good credit reputation. The lending process begins with credit selection and continues to administration and review of loan accounts on a regular basis. Reporting to and review by the Credit and Loans Review Committee is part of the whole credit process and done on a regular basis.

1. The bank has no hedging nor financial derivatives contracts. The bank's main financial contracts are:

Financial Assets at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI), and Debt Securities at Amortized Cost (AC).

2. Other than US Dollar denominated bonds issued by the Republic of the Philippines, the bank has no investment in foreign securities or equities.

3. Asset and liability management is involved in matching the economic characteristics of the bank's cash flows. We look at duration, the fixed/floating interest rate of our commitments, the repricing period, liquidity position and stress testing. The decisions are strategically made based on interest rate exposure. Impairment is recognized via valuation reserves in accordance with PFRS 9.

4. Before the bank makes any investment decision, it ensures that the secondary market must have liquidity, breadth, and depth to transact all tenors of financial instruments.

ANNEX C3

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for Calendar Year 2025

Financial Condition

The Bank total resources for the year 2025 posted at P171.354 billion, a slight decrease of 2.34% compared from last year's level of P175.471 billion. Due from Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas representing 10.07% of total assets increased by 109.69% or by P9.010 billion due to higher volume of placements as compared from last year's level of P8.213 billion. Due from other banks increased by 49.08% or by P498.329 million due to higher level of deposits and working balances with local and foreign correspondent banks. Debt securities at amortized cost decreased by 20.56% or by P21.729 billion driven largely by peso and US dollars bond maturities. SPURA placements increased by 66.67% or by P4.019 billion as successful bids redirected excess liquidity into higher yielding Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas facilities. The increase also reflects disciplined liquidity deployment and a deliberate push to lift margins through more efficient asset allocation. Loans and receivables rose by 12.17% driven by sustained customer loan growth and higher accrual of interest. Cash and other cash items decreased by 22.45% as funds were shifted to higher yielding investment. Other assets accounts decreased by 16.46% as movements of these asset accounts can be accounted for by transaction in the ordinary course of business.

Deposit liabilities which comprises 85.58% of total assets and 99.21% of total liabilities decreased by a minimal of 3.40% compared from last year's level despite an increase of 64.10% in demand deposits which was offsetted by decrease in time deposits due to volume of matured time deposits for the quarter. The decrease in manager's checks by 40.04% represents lower outstanding checks issued compared from last year's level of P173.230 million. All other payables were paid within the stated term.

Capital funds closed at P23.849 billion, reflecting a minimal increase of 5.17% compared from last year's level of P22.676 billion. This can be accounted from the earnings for the year amounting to P269.918 million, the increase in net unrealized gains/loss of P914.261 million and the decrease of cumulative translation adjustments amounting to P11.255 million. Capital adequacy ratio (CAR) for the year is 32.94% which is well above the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas minimum requirements of 10%.

The Bank has outstanding commitments, contingent liabilities, and bank guarantees that arise from normal course of operations. The Bank does not anticipate any losses that will materially affect its financial position and results of operations. Changes in nature and amounts in the financial statements were due more to market related factors inherent in nature of the issuer's business operations and were not considered unusual.

Results of Operations

The Bank generated at year end of 2025, gross earnings amounting to P9.099 billion compared from last year's level of P10.491 billion, a decrease of P1.040 billion. Total interest income closed at P8.543 billion a decrease of 11.64% compared from last year's level of P9.668 billion, as all interest earning assets except interest on deposit with Banks posted negative growth. Interest income on investments securities decreased by P1.266 billion or by 17.93% due to lower volume of securities disposed compared from last year's level. Deposit placements with BSP and other banks posted a 27.92% increase due to higher volume of transactions and yields generated. Income from foreign exchange profits decreased by 40.58% due mainly to lower unrealized foreign revaluation gains due to lower foreign exchange rate. Gains/losses on sale of investment securities decreased by 14.85% as elevated interest rate dampened prospects for generating higher gains from sale of fixed income instruments.

Interest expense dropped by 21.16% from P6.503 billion to P5.126 billion due to lower deposit liabilities compared from last year's level. Occupancy and equipment related expenses decreased by 75.38% due to lower technology booked and other related service cost. Other operating expenses increased by 11.31% due mainly to the additional payment of subscription charges for the new core banking system and new accounting system. All other expenses increased/decreased by less than 10% which is normal in the ordinary course of business. Net Income for the year closed at P269.918 million lower by 56.04% compared from last year's level.

For the past years, the Bank continued to be conservative in the management of depositor's funds. The Bank will continue to focus on its core business and to deepen its banking relationship with more prospective clients and to offer more excellent customer services.
